London, March 2.—The Russian armies are now engaged in battles along virtually the whole eastern

The grand jury were given three other cases, and were closed in until after 6 o'clock. Two of the cases yet to be reported on are charges of reason.

"When you put in the second order for 12,000 what condition as to the use of material was imposed?"—"I don't know. It is quite possible the option had then expired."

"In the second order nothing is said about the change in leather. When did you consent to the use of chrome?"—"I think consent must have been given verbally."

FREE CASES

Although Temptation to Steal is Great When Times are Hard and Money Scarce.

COURT OPENED

One Case Tried and a Few Disposed of in Other Ways To-day.

With hardly any preamble the County Court opened yesterday afternoon, Judge Selinger presiding. The grand jury selected as foreman George W. H. Slater, and in a brief address His Honor attracted attention to the terrible war being waged in Europe, and the hard and desperate times which had followed in its wake. He added that the fact remains that though such conditions prevail, stealing is a crime in Hamilton that ever before. The temptation to steal is very strong when the people are unable to obtain money or money where they need it. He said that the temptation has not been lessened; there has hardly been a case of this nature before.

Unlike that last sitting of a jury, there were no criminal cases. Eleven jury and twenty-one non-jury cases were listed for trial. The first case was reached in the action of Fuller vs. Hamilton Street Railway Company, and the jury went to the County Jail to view the premises. The case will be heard on the non-jury list.

The first action called was that of J. E. Kent vs. William C. Adams, W. E. Knowles, of Dundas, acting for the defendant. The case was heard as counsel for W. L. Ross, for the defendant. Kent, who is a barber, had been charged with the theft of a watch from Adams. He claimed that he was entitled to the watch and that he had been forced to take it. The case was heard on the non-jury list.

ALIVE EVIDENCE

Decision in Questioned Will Held in Court By Arbitration Will Be Given To-day.

All evidence has been heard by His Honor Judge Selinger in the arbitration decision in the estate of the late E. J. Guest and the City of Hamilton, over the expropriation of property in the city. The case was heard on the non-jury list.

TO BE TRIED BY JUDGE

William Lafferty and William McCarthy appeared before His Honor Judge Selinger in the arbitration decision in the estate of the late E. J. Guest and the City of Hamilton, over the expropriation of property in the city. The case was heard on the non-jury list.

SCOTTISH RITE

Crescent Company Did Not Put in a Tender for Any of the Supplies.

Other Figures.

Tenders for Supplies Required by Works Department Have Been Accepted.

A star chamber meeting wound up the Board of Control session this morning, following the awarding of tenders for many of the supplies that the city will require this year.

There was little of importance other than the tender matters, several announcements being made at the opening, including one to the effect that the City Solicitor William and Engineer Sifton were to be retained to attend a meeting of the Hydro in regard to distributing the cost of the conduit system.

Another communication, this time from the members' Association, was in regard to the proposed amendment to the plumbing by-law.

The Board of Control session this morning, following the awarding of tenders for many of the supplies that the city will require this year.

There was little of importance other than the tender matters, several announcements being made at the opening, including one to the effect that the City Solicitor William and Engineer Sifton were to be retained to attend a meeting of the Hydro in regard to distributing the cost of the conduit system.

Another communication, this time from the members' Association, was in regard to the proposed amendment to the plumbing by-law.
